Wiley Bankrupt; Admits $600,000 in Debts

WILEY RETURNS FROM EUROPE

By Arthur Brisbane
THE AMERICAN PEOPLE today are performing a great, sovereign function at the polls, with little interest or enthusiasm. When it is over, the country will be just about where it was before, with some out, some in.

The radio enabling families to remain at home, tuning in on political speeches, has taken enthusiasm out of public meetings. Why go out, when you can tune in?

A few boys lighting bonfires, glad of any opportunity to defy the law, are all that is left of the old election enthusiasm.

Galli-Curci Would Ban Diet to Aid Prosperity

London, Nov. 4 (INB)—Amelia Galli-Curci, the opera star, who is spending a holiday here before leaving for the United States in December for a three-month tour, is proud of the fact that she has gained her weight in 138 pounds by hard eating.

In an interview at her London hotel, she made many amusing remarks about herself, mixing with some quips and comments on the problems of the times.

One solution she has for the poverty of nations is that girls should give up slimming and eat more food.

"Anyone who wants to sing should not on a little weight," she said. "If the nerves are not

Early Vote Is Fairly Heavy

Chief Interest Centers in Gerry and Metcalf Fight for U. S. Senator

Providence, R. I., Nov. 4 (AP)—More than 200,000 Rhode Island voters went to the polls today under skies which threatened rain. Early voting was fairly heavy, according to observers.

Although Providence registration was phenomenally large for an "old year," within 2000 of the record in 1928 when the state was carried by former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, the city canvassers reported today the election appeared "quiet" as their office was not deluged with telephone and personal inquiries that are usual when interest is at fever height.

The national fight, around which interest seemed chiefly centered, was between Peter G. Gerry, Democrat, who failed of reelection to a narrow margin two years ago, and Joseph H. Metcalf, Republican incumbent, opposing Governor Senator Peter G. Gerry, Democrat, who failed of reelection to a narrow margin two years ago.

In the First and Second Congressional Districts, the Republican incumbent, Samuel W. Smith, Jr., Democrat, and Richard A. Aldrich, Republican, were pitted against Arthur L. Conaty, Democrat.

In the Third District, Francis B. Condon, Democrat, and William H. Fortin, Republican, battled it out for the seat made vacant by the retirement of Jeremiah E. O'Connor, Democrat.

R. HEARST'S TEMPERANCE PLAN PRAISED IN CAPITAL CIRCLES

LEADS TO A NEW ADDRESS

Sen. Caraway Lauds Proposal as Helpful Contribution to Remedy Discussion

Washington, Nov. 4.—William Randolph Hearst's radio address throughout the nation advocating a temperance plan to supplant prohibition continues to evoke favorable comment in Congressional circles today.

Senator Caraway (D.), of Arkansas, a prohibitionist, hailed the publisher's analysis of the prohibition situation as a helpful contribution to the discussion for remedial present conditions.

Rep. George Holden (R., Kan.), a prohibitionist, said that Mr. Hearst had, with convincing logic, pointed out the incompatibility of the present attempt at absolute prohibition with the traditions of the American people.

While some members of Congress said they would have to study further the publisher's proposal, others considered it as a sound method to solve the situation and put the country back on the road to temperance.

HEARST'S PROPOSAL
The plan suggested by Mr. Hearst provides that the federal government control the manufacture, distribution, and sale of alcoholic beverages, and that the states regulate the sale of such beverages.

When Congress reconvenes in December and the prohibition issue is again brought forward, the Hearst plan will be given considerable attention, it was pointed out.

Senator Caraway said: "President Hoover's unwillingness or inability to enforce the prohibition law has created a situation which has encouraged many sincere believers in prohibition, and there will be a continued effort to find a common-sense solution of this problem. Personally, I am in favor of prohibition."

LAID BY BAY STATE
"However, I presume nobody contends there is not a ground for a better different solution as to the provisions of the laws and everyone welcomes any fair and intelligent discussion of the problem. This because I think there is so hardy as to say that the present administration has tried to find a solution to enforce the law."

With great vision, he has penetrated the impossibility and the impracticability of the present policy. He properly denounces an attempt to regulate by bureaucratic control the drinking habits and customs of a free people.

"With convincing logic, he denounces the wholly offensive and insulting system of espionage and coercion of free men by a federal government."

"He points out the utter incompatibility of this wretched tyranny and oppression to the character and tradition of the American people."

Warner Sees W. R. Hearst Talk as Big Benefit
The radio address of William Randolph Hearst was lauded today in Boston by civic leaders and others as an outstanding contribution to the solution of the prohibition problem.

Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner, one of those who commended, while adhering to his rule of not taking sides on the question while holding his present office, declared Mr. Hearst's exposition of the subject was of great value to the people of America who ultimately must decide the problem.

The views of this state official and others follow:
ATTY.-GEN. JOSEPH E. WARNER—The great characteristic of the Boston Evening American and Mr. Hearst is giving them full information upon issues that vital to affect their welfare. On one of these issues Mr. Hearst, speaking over the radio, gave his observations for their consideration and in accordance with his usual policy he likewise presented shrewd suggestions. He well stated that this question, like every public question, ultimately rests with the people to be decided after thoughtful deliberation.

PHILIP A. CHAPMAN, independent of supplies, city of Boston—Mr. Hearst's views on the prohibition question are sane and sane ones. His message to the people of the nation Sunday night is one that will long be remembered. I am a total abstemious man, but I like Mr. Hearst's belief that something should be done to correct present-day conditions in this country. It seems that the only proper way is to let Mr. Hearst suggest that alcoholic beverages should be under government supervision in hotels and restaurants. His plan, if adopted by the lawmakers, will be a great benefit to the nation.

DO NOT RECORDS SUSPENDED

Former Boston Man Served Drinks to "Friends" in New York Home

Three months ago James J. Donovan, prohibition director of New York, took two "friends" to his Long Island home, borrowed a pint of liquor from a friendly neighbor, and then drank with them.

As a result of his solicitude for these two "friends," Donovan, a former James Plain man, who rose from the bottom in the Federal prohibition enforcement department to second in command of the New York division, is under suspension pending hearing on charges which will be made public later this week.

Donovan, according to his own statement, made at the home of a relative in Jamaica Plain today has been out of office since Oct. 23. Efforts to get Donovan to resign were made in vain.

DOOMED TO GO
In an exclusive interview with a Boston Evening American reporter today, Donovan unhesitatingly raised up the mystery with which officials in New York and Washington shrouded his suspension.

"There is no mystery in this affair and fortunately there are no scandalous charges which can be preferred against me," he said.

"I am out of office for two reasons. First, as you know and all New York knows, I was first lieutenant to the former prohibition administrator, Maurice Campbell, who recently resigned rather than accept a post in Boston. He was forced out of New York because he enforced the prohibition law in New York."

Secondly, the actual charge against me is taking a drink of liquor and giving a couple of drinks to the men whom I had always considered close personal friends, and whom I have since learned were working for the high price in the department to get evidence to enable them to sustain a charge against me.

BLAME MCCAMPBELL
"It all happened two months ago. Since the middle of last July, Administrator Andrew McCampbell has been trying to have me ousted. I am certain. A Federal investigation is being conducted by the department in New York in order to provide instruction for the greatest number of people."

"The two called at the office in New York. I invited them to dinner to his coronation. I asked if I was drinking anything and I said, 'No, not for nearly two years.' They both begged me for a drink and I had to go out to a neighbor's house and borrow a pint from which we each had two drinks."

"Since that night I was constantly trailed until I received the order of suspension October 23. When I was asked about the incident at my house by (C. Woodcock, in his office at Washington, I told him that if he had received information regarding that party, it was true."

Royalty Worships Again in St. George's Chapel
By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Windsor, Eng., Nov. 4.—One of the most brilliant ceremonies ever held in England in years was staged at Windsor, England today when in a setting of purple, scarlet and gold and the mellowed beauty of stained glass, King George and Queen Mary, the knights of the garter, men and women of high rank and distinguished church dignitaries participated in the coronation ceremony of the late King George's chapel.

It was a thanksgiving service for the restoration of the sacred shrine which had been the chapel of the most noble order of the Knights of the Garter since the foundation of the order in 1348, the wedding place of the late King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

Restoration work occupied nearly 11 years and cost one million dollars, contributed privately by individuals.

King George and his consort occupied their seats under the canopy in the nave were representatives of the kings of Italy, Spain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Belgium, the Emperor of Japan, and the Prince of Wales, who are all members of the Garter.

VARGAS PLANS VIENNA CRITICS
Universal Service Special Cable. Buenos Aires, Nov. 4 (AP)—A series of important reforms in the administration of the Brazilian republic will be introduced by President Vargas, according to a statement made today by the president.

This was the substance of an important statement made exclusively to Universal Service last night by Dr. Getulio Vargas, who assumed office as provisional president and chose a cabinet to replace the government of deposed President Washington Luis.

"The policies of the provisional government can be grouped into nine classes, which may be characterized: 'Reform of the public education system in order to provide instruction for the greatest number of people.'"

"Reorganization of the army." "Introduction of much-needed electoral reforms, including the secret ballot." "Revising of the tariff system with a unification of taxes."

"Franchising the electrical, water, and transportation improvement and construction of highways throughout the entire country."

"Restriction to a minimum in public expenditure." "Creation of 10 new ministries, headed by Lindolfo Collor, and instruction, headed by Francisco Campos."

Green Hat Sure to Win Place in Congress
By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER
Serious investigation into the green hat reveals these facts: The man wears a green hat for the reason a druggist wears a green light.

To let you know he would mix prescriptions. When informed that bootleggers were wearing a hat, and that you could get a drink from the sultan with the emerald chaplain, my personal grand-mother said:

"Great heavens, are they drinking out of hats now?" Who should Harvard Brown run for Congress on the socialist ticket? He can put on a pair of green trousers and get into the Senate!

The mad green hatter was clobbered in mystery. And to let you know that the man with the green hat is thoroughly non-partisan we state that he is now in his fourth administration.

HOOVER URGES PEACE FETE

Washington Nov. 4 (INS)—President Hoover today issued the annual Armistice Day proclamation, declaring the American flag displayed on all government buildings and fasting the people generally to observe this day, Nov. 11, with appropriate ceremony.

"It is fitting the anniversary of this day should be commemorated by exercises which shall do honor to all those who served our country, and especially to the memory of those who died in its service, believing their sacrifice was in the cause of peace which we thereby are solemnly bound to do all in our power to advance and secure," the proclamation said in part.

MALE FREE ON $3000 BAIL IN RUM PLOT

Providence, R. I., Nov. 4 (AP).—Nine men captured aboard the British motor boat Maya, by a coast guard craft Saturday were at liberty today on $3000 bail each, after refusing last night to plead to charges of conspiracy to smuggle 400 cases of liquor into the United States.

The men denied the jurisdiction of the United States and predicted British intervention. United States Commissioner Matteson entered a plea of not guilty for each man.

Former Asst. U. S. Atty. Joseph E. Fitzpatrick, counsel for the men, said he had been informed by Captain Cook of the Maya that the boat, with her drinking water almost exhausted and her engines disabled, was well outside the 12-mile limit when she was taken in tow by the coast guard boat. Commander Stetson of the Tucker denied this.

The crew described themselves as follows: Frank D. Cook, captain; Freeman Dorsey, cook; Paul Mosher, second engineer; William Cook, engineer; Stanley Heckman, Vilberg Vamboldt and Louis Acker, all of Lunenburg, N. S., and Augustine Richard, master, and Douglas Wilk, both of Liverpool, N. S.

LEGUA CRAFT CASE IN COURT

Lima, Peru, Nov. 4 (AP).—Former President Augusto Leguia and his three sons headed a list of persons "the presented to the government" during the deposed Leguia administration which was sent to the National Supreme Court today. The defendants included former President Leguia, his sons, Augusto Leguia Swayne, Juan Leguia Swayne and Jose Leguia Swayne; his sons-in-law, Alfredo Larraza and Alberto Ayala Laos, and Martin H. Corcuera, who was dismissed as Peruvian minister to France when Leguia was overthrown.

DO-X Again Held on Ground by Storm

Altenrhein, Switzerland, Nov. 4 (UPI).—The start of the Dorothea DO-X on its continental and transatlantic flight to New York was again postponed yesterday because of the storm along the northeastern coast of Europe.

On announcement made of the time when the DO-X would be the first leg of the flight to Amsterdam, other than that the takeoff would come on the first clear day.

M-G-M to Produce Foreign Talkies

Los Angeles, Nov. 4 (AP).—M-G-M of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios have announced plans to produce foreign language talkies next year on a basis of picture for picture with English speaking films.

Arthur Loew, foreign representative of the company, said the new policy will mean the production of feature films in French, German and Spanish.

Belgian Light Said to Precede Edison

Brussels (AP).—Celebration of the achievements of Zenohe Gramme, inventor of the dynamo, has led to study of the role played by Belgian scientists in electricity. On Nov. 5, 1879, it is asserted, the Belgian engineer, Leon Somers, filed application for a patent describing an electrical valve with a charcoal filament. Sixteen days later Edison patented his charred filament lamp.

Noonan Escapes Jail at Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Nov. 4 (AP).—Jack Noonan, brother of Sully O'Neill and Molly O'Day, film actresses, escaped yesterday from a prison room camp, where he was serving a one-year sentence for burglary. Noonan was arrested a year ago for robbing the Hollywood home of Ted Lewis, orchestra leader, of $1000 in furs, jewelry and clothing.

Unionville Pastor Is Taken by Death

Hartford, Ct., Nov. 4 (INS).—An illness of three months had today terminated in the death of Rev. Thomas H. Tierman, for eleven years pastor of the Church of St. Mary's Star of the Sea, Unionville, and formerly curate in New London and Rockville and pastor in Moodus.

Strangled

DOLORES GORDON PARKER, formerly of Hartford, Ct., and common law wife of Dewey M. Parker, found strangled to death in her New York apartment, Parker, stationed with the coast guard at New London, Ct., until he was convicted of conspiring with rum-runners, is being held.

MILLETT WEDS DIANE ELLIS

By CHLOEY KICKERHEDDER Universal Service Society Editor New York, Nov. 4.—Another "queen of the movie" has entered the sacred social register ranks. And it falls to us yet today to announce the marriage, on October 14 last, in Paris, of Diane Ellis, formerly young lady of the silver screen and Stephen C. Millett, Jr., of the well-known Stephen C. Millett, Sr., of 525 Park ave.

Just why the announcement has been delayed is more than I can say, as it was well known here in Gotham at the time Diane sailed for Europe last August that she planned to become the young law student's bride.

The marriage has the full approval of the bridegroom's family, and at the ceremony at the American Cathedral in Paris the bride was attended by young Elizabeth Millett, sister of the bridegroom, who was the maid of honor.

Added to which, Edward F. Pignon, chief of the Cold Stream Guards, whose engagement to another sister, Thelma Westmont Millett, has been announced, was "Rieve."

Now that Diane is Mrs. Millett she will forsake the picture world and devote her time to the place in society that will be hers as a wife.

NO JOB MENAGE TO M'DONALD

London, Nov. 4 (AP).—Parliamentary elements disaffected with the government's efforts to ally critical unemployment conditions threatened today to turn out the ministry of J. Ramsay MacDonald and force new general elections.

Late today the House of Commons will vote on a conservative amendment to the reply of the speech from the throne which expresses severe censure of government managers to relieve the jobless and provide occupations to lessen their steadily mounting numbers.

Although a government defeat obviously was easily possible, the best guess of lobby circles seemed to be that the ministry would win by a very small margin, and escape one of the first important battles of the new Parliament.

Ex-Barber to Direct Great Soviet Project

By CHARMION VON WIEGAND Universal Service Staff Correspondent

Moscow, Nov. 4.—A former barber is charged with directing the expenditure of the 900,000,000 rubles (approximately $500,000,000) appropriated under the five-year plan for the great industrial region of the Stalingrad, on the Volga.

It is under the direction of M. S. Khevdin that five new cities are to be built on a narrow strip of land along the river 90 miles long and 24 miles wide.

Khevdin is a mid-looking, 30-year-old man, who wears large horn-rimmed spectacles and the uniform of a Red army officer. Although only 35 years old, the responsibility of the position does not disturb him.

The Red revolution interrupted his career as a barber to sweep him into power as a general of the Red army. Seven times wounded in he is minus one lung.

It is with the gentle but firm insistence of a school master that he recites the statistics concerning the industrialization of Stalingrad. Out of the dry figures arises a mighty vision of the future. He is not merely a barren explanation of facts, but a prophecy of a new social paradise.

The Stalingrad district, when completed will consist of five industrial cities. The present old town, formerly called Tsaritsyn, is to be pulled down and in its place is to arise a new central city with all the cultural improvement such as offices, clubs, schools and theaters.

Further, there is to be built a metallurgical city, of which the gigantic new plant, Traktorskiy, is to be a part only. Then is to be added a lumber city, a chemical city, with plants for agriculture and industry and a large ship-building city.

HOOVER IS TOLD OF JOB DRIVE

Washington, Nov. 4 (INS).—On the return of Col. Arthur Woods from New York where he went to vote today, the organization of the field forces in the Government's job finding campaign will reach completion, and before the end of the week the drive will be carried on by local committees in every community.

After leaving for New York, Col. Woods saw President Hoover and gave him an encouraging report of progress.

There remain three regional districts to be appointed, for the Pacific coast, the southwest and New England.

Thus far, only two, Frederick C. Croxson for the middle west and great lakes, and Frank Plume of Richmond, Va., for the southeast, are functioning.

Halloween Funny
With Little Damage

Editor Boston American:
It is greatly to the credit of the boys and girls of Greater Boston that the freaks, whims and fancies that were perpetrated on Halloween were funny, but not mischievous, nor pernicious, nor destructive.
There is plenty of fun to be taken out of life without resorting to injury to personal property, which does not add to enjoyment of the occasion. A safe and sane Fourth of July has brought its good results and now we are getting from the younger generation a fun Halloween, which turns in the tide of observing that goblin occasion brings credit to the growing wisdom of the blossoming youthful generation. Keep it up!

Liberal Malden

Police Are Praised

Editor Boston American:
"Bear ye one another's burdens."
This is taken from the Bible. Its application is just as much needed today as it was in time gone by.
Malden police have turned their hearts this way. When the Malden police drew their nets monthly by pay every effort took it out of his pay envelope and passed it over to the Malden Chamber of Commerce for the employment fund.
This is what your paper stated. I read it with some feeling. I like to hear of such acts of kindness and good will. Certain conditions in life call for admiration. There is a great deal of the bulk of human kindness in men whose positions are likely to lead them even to poverty or want. They often hide what they are in good feeling until a better knowledge comes down upon them. They then respond willingly.
Malden police, like others, know life and its demands. They above their hands into their pockets and make glad the hearts of others.
N. K. BERNHARDT.

2 Blind Geniuses

Added to List

Editor Boston American:
Your editorial of Monday, Nov. 2, on "Eight Great Men" was certainly interesting. But in me add to these two men that I have in mind whose genius I have always admired, though they are little known.
The sculptor, Giovanni, who became blind at the age of 20, yet was able to execute excellent portraits in terra cotta. It was sufficient for him but to pass his hand over a person's face to produce an exact likeness.
Then just think of Nicholas Andronov, who lost his sight before he was 12 months old, but eventually became professor of mathematics and optics at the University of Cambridge. His sense of touch was so acute that in the collection of Roman coins he could easily distinguish the false by feeling them through counterfeits. He has received the sharp eyes of connoisseurs.
These men with a handicap stand out in my mind as great and there are others.
N. S. PALLADINO.

Three Great Elements

In Progress Discussed

Editor Boston American:
Some time ago I read "Science and the New Civilization" by Robert A. Millikan, and, somewhat since then I see things clearer. I have a better knowledge of what lies behind our present wants and needs, our racket religion and revolutions. Millikan sums up in the last chapter "The Three Great Elements."

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

May I comment those merchants in the different cities of this commonwealth who are making some headway in breaking the business jam.

They are reducing retail prices and this is the most direct way, it seems to me of putting business on its feet again.

Such a movement gives a boost to buying. It is tempting to any one. Instead of hoarding money in the savings bank, it gives you an opportunity to use your money with great advantage, because you are facing real bargains and can store up for the future with necessary articles that will save you so much money. Every one chases a bargain. They are glad to get hold of it. Today we are facing bargains. Grasp them and thereby benefit yourself and start the stream of business flowing and break the jam.

Mental Human Progress

They are:

1. The Idea of the Golden Rule;

2. The idea of natural law;

3. The idea of age-long growth or evolution.

The first idea he tells us, is the gift of religion to the race,

the other two are the gifts of science.

Well, then, what are we doing today with these three gifts—

"the greatest elements in human progress?"

Are we going into a huddle to get a good working knowledge of them?

We are not—not one in a thousand of us! And look at us!

Urges Telling of Shortcomings

As Well As Failures

Editor Boston American:

Dr. Richard C. Cabot, a Boston product. He has fame in medicine and literature. There fell from his lips during the late conference of the American Association of Hospital Social

Workers in this city several statements that should keep us busy every day.

He said in part:

"No political party, no government, when it goes out of office ever confesses its shortcomings. We know the shortcomings of the other party and point out with pride to our country. The annual reports of any agency, of any hospital or any undertaking or establishment never confess failure."

Here is something to think about. Organizations that are always boasting themselves great upon our finer feelings. If we give attention to our failures as well as to our successes the public will take the hint that we are human, and will praise us for our shortcomings.

FLIERS TO FETE
LIEUT. LYNCH

By GEORGE HAMBLIN
Plans for a farewell party to be tendered Lieut. Joseph E. Lynch, U. S. N., were formulated by his flying friends in Greater Boston today. Lieut. Lynch has received orders from the Navy Department transferring him to the naval aviation station at Miami, Fla., effective November 15.

Serving as executive officer under three different commanders at the Squantum naval air base during the past several years, Lieut. Lynch has acquired a host of friends both in and out of the flying fraternity in these parts.

At Wood, of Palomouth, is the latest pupil sent alone into the air by Gus Ham, chief pilot for Aviation Corp. of New England. Wood joined the ranks of embryo pilots at the Palomouth airport, and Ham is well pleased with the pair of landings he made. Wood's friend, Ralph Silva, is rapidly nearing the solo state at the same field, and Ham expects to let him fly alone before Thanksgiving.

A new biplane, designed and constructed by two local boys, is due to make its appearance as soon as identification numbers can be procured from the Department of Commerce. The ship has been built in secrecy for the past several months, and is at present at one of the fields outside of Boston having final touches applied.

RIVER OF FIRE
BURNS BRIDGES

Oklahoma City, Nov. 4 (AP)—Oil fires which swept along the surface of the North Canadian river had consumed their fuel and subsided today after having destroyed two bridges and endangered the Harrah plant of the Oklahoma City Gas & Electric Company.

The river of fire which flared yesterday was an aftermath of the wild gusher of the Morgan Petroleum Company, brought under control Sunday after it had threatened Oklahoma City for three days and poured a stream of oil into the North Canadian several miles away.

One of the destroyed bridges was a 200-foot structure, known as the Wane bridge in honor of the family of Paul and Lloyd Wane, local oil men.

MUELLER'S SPAGHETTI
 *Look for the Red, White and Blue Package.
 You can prepare a really sumptuous meal at very little cost. Just for a change, serve MUELLER'S SPAGHETTI. It is so tasty and tender that it makes a tempting dish, even when served plain without any flavoring but pan-gravy or butter.

The Mueller Recipes
 There is also a wide variety of appetizing ways of serving—all most inexpensive and all highly nourishing. Why not try this one?

SPAGHETTI CHOP SUEY
 1 pkg. MUELLER'S SPAGHETTI;
 2 tbsps. butter; 2 green peppers, chopped; 2 onions, chopped; 1/2 pound ground round steak; 1 1/2 cups chopped celery; 3 cups tomatoes; 1 tsp. salt; 1 tsp. sugar; 1/4 tsp. pepper. Parboil spaghetti 7 min., 2 1/4 cups boiling water, with 1 tsp. salt. Drain. Melt butter in frying pan; add peppers, onions and celery; cook slowly 10 min. Add tomato seasonings, cook till mixture thickens; add spaghetti and cook slowly for 1/2 hr. Fry round steak in small cakes, crumble over top of mixture. Serve hot. Mushrooms may be substituted for steak.

Lightest and "Fluffiest"
 The choice farina-blend used—the most nourishing part of the wheat—and the special Mueller process make this better spaghetti an ideal food both for children and adults. It cooks up lighter and "fluffier" than any other. Easy to prepare, easy to eat, and easy to digest.

Boil for 9 Minutes
 —in four quarts of water, with one tablespoonful of salt. In this way you avoid overcooking. If especial tenderness is desired, one or two minutes more may be allowed. And—when you ask your grocer—"be sure to say "MUELLER'S." He has it, or can get it for you.

Final Defense Witness Tells of Row Over Mailing the Dividend Checks

Joseph Pollay and Isaac Hart

The brokers who obtained the Page & Shaw stock issue of $2,000,000, netted only $100,000 each in the final accounting. Pollay declared today in Middlesex Superior Court where he is on trial with Hart and ten others, charged with conspiracy to steal from purchasers of the stock.

Pollay's statement was a surprise in view of the fact government witnesses had testified the $2,000,000 was sold at a profit of $1,000,000. Pollay, the last defendant to appear as a witness, also told a long story of the financial struggle the company had in order to pay the dividends.

CRUEL 4 DAYS AFTER BRIDAL

Policeman Climbs in Window to Open Ward 3 Booth

One of the 16 divorce decrees granted by Judge Joseph R. McCook in Norfolk Probate Court at Dedham was awarded Mrs. Dorothy Phillips of 1443 Beacon st., Brookline, who was freed from William M. Phillips of Brookline, a wool merchant, on the grounds of cruelty and abusive treatment after a married life of a little over 10 months.

Mrs. Phillips testified that she was married Christmas Eve, 1923, in New York, and four days after the marriage her husband was cruel to her. She said the night of the marriage they returned to Boston by train and during the trip her husband became intoxicated. She said his drinking continued for the next three days while they were guests at a local hotel.

She testified that her husband called her improper names and when she remonstrated with him in the morning he struck her about the face with his fist and caused black and blue marks on her chest. Several times Mrs. Phillips told her husband she would leave him and he would get up during the night and throw her out of the house.

She told the court that her husband threw her on the floor when she took liquor away from him and another time he struck her with a shoe. Phillips threatened to shoot his wife, according to Mrs. Phillips, who testified her husband had a revolver.

She told the court that her husband accused her of hiding his liquor and she took liquor away from him and another time he struck her with a shoe. Phillips threatened to shoot his wife, according to Mrs. Phillips, who testified her husband had a revolver.

CIVILIANS LOSE ARMY JOBS

In line with a War Department order to trim the army budget, civilian employees working on army posts have been dismissed and their places taken by soldiers.

It was not until the arrival of an officer from district 3, however, that entrance to the building was gained. The officer had to enter the building through a window and then force a door to the polling booth.

A company of the 5th Infantry, stationed at Portland has been transferred to Ft. Revere to recruit the empty garison buildings, and similar shifts have been made in all the abandoned army posts to repair the buildings.
